S. C.—Brothers and Sisters : We are about to enter upon the discussion of business ; let moderation, fraternal regard, and a high sense of personal honor, influence all our deliberations, and make this Communication pleasant and profitable. [OPENING ODE.]

OPENING PRAYER.

[Members all assume the attitude of devotion.]

Prelate.—Our Father in Heaven, we pray for Thy presence and blessing. We believe thou art faithful to those who are true to themselves, and who open their hearts to Thee. If we have been proud and selfish, may we bow humbly before Thee, repent, and ask Thy aid to follow in the footsteps of the Saviour, who went about doing good. Help us to love our neighbors as Thou wouldest have us do, and in word and deed be blessed in doing good unto others, for Thy sake. May this select circle here convened be inspired with fresh zeal to labor in the cause of Temperance; impart unto us wisdom to devise, and ability to execute such measures as will advance the interests of our beloved cause. May the spirit of love control our hearts and pervade our discussions at this Communication. We ask these favors in the name of Jesus Christ, Thy Son. Amen.

RAISING.

[When the degree is to be conferred, the P. C. and S. should see that all arrangements are completed, so as to prevent mistakes or confusion after the candidate has entered the Council Chamber. The Urn of Incense, ready to light, should stand upon the Bible, and before admitting the candidate, a trial living triangle should be ordered by the S. C., that every member present should know the proper position, to make the figure as nearly perfect as possible.]

S. C.—Bro. Steward, are there any members of our Order awaiting to be raised to this Select Degree?

S.—Select Councilor, I find Bro. _____ Sister _____ awaiting your pleasure, desirous of being raised to the Select Degree.

[No objection being made the S. C. will proceed.] The P. C. and B. S. will retire to the Court with the S. The P. ● ● ●

P. C.—Select Councilor, Officers and Members, it affords me pleasure to introduce to you our worthy Brother— who desires to become a member of our Select Degree. [P. C. takes his official position.]

S. C.—With Hope we bid you Welcome!

Prelate.—With Love we bid you Welcome!

Members.—Welcome to our Select Temple!

S. C.—Dear Brother—

Do you remember the solemn declarations in our Creed, Pledge and Covenant, which you signed, under seal, before you were admitted to this Order?

(Can. answers.)

Do you recall the solemn obligation at our altar, by which you confirmed your declarations?

(Can. answers.)

Have you faithfully endeavored to keep these vows by honestly performing your duty to the temperance cause, and to this Order?

(Can. answers.)

Have you seriously considered the step you are about to take, the responsibility you will be expected to assume, and the duties laid upon members of this Degree?

(Can. answers.)

It is with pleasure that we open to you the portals of this Inner Temple where the Select Templar alone may find a safe retreat.

In the Royal Degree you learned the lessons of HOPE, SIMPLICITY and FRATERNITY. In this second Degree we teach the lessons of LOVE, EQUALITY and PROTECTION :—LOVE, the second principle in our three-fold motto ; EQUALITY, the second element of our mystic emblem ; PROTECTION, the second great aim of our magnificent system.

[Steward holds emblem in his hand ready to take it apart immediately after he gives the candidate the grip.]

[FIRST ODE.]

P. C—The clasped hands (S. gives grip) in the true fraternal grip of a Royal Templar is the Emblem of Equality and Love, and exemplifies the union of purpose and heart, which exists among all who have sincerely knelt in our Select Temple. We are all equals, as the bars of our Emblem are equal (S. holds up the three bars, so disposed that they appear exact in length and shape) ; not in talent, not in care, but in affection and position as Select Templars, and in responsibility and reward, according to our several abilities. We are equals, as the children of the same family are equals, each in his own order or sphere, and yet all are equal here. Our Divine Councilor said, “Ye call me Master and Lord, and ye say well, for so I am. I have given an example that ye also should do as I have done to you. For one is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren.” Men love to be viewed as above their fellows, and when this passion has been nurtured by education, it seems almost impossible for them to realize "We are all brethren." We aim here to impress this great truth, and within the veil of this select retreat claim that all are equal, and that God is our Father. Favored we may be, but those who move in the humblest walks of life, for whom fortune has no smile, and the world no helping hand, are the children of our Heavenly Father. They are our brothers and our sisters ; it is our duty to labor for their restoration, elevation and safety. If you would join with us in this Select circle, you must divest yourself of every selfish and unhallowed thought, and in the true feeling of brotherly love take your stand as a Select Templar. Do impure thoughts and feelings dwell within you ? Here let them be sacrificed. Have you offended or grieved a member's spirit ? Now, let confession bring God-like forgiveness to heal the wound, for within this Degree Prosperity can dwell only when Peace and Purity and Harmony reign. Love is the chain that unites us as one. Its golden links entwine about every heart, while angel hands fasten it to the Throne on High. Remember the Christian injunction : " Be kindly affectioned one to another, with brotherly love, in honor preferring one another."

[SECOND ODE.]

Prelate.—LOVE is the basis of all true and noble action. In Love was born the great temperance movement, and in Love must it be continued. Hence, have we chosen Love as the central principle of our Order, and placed the word in that position upon our magic Emblem, the TRIANGLE. Love to God, our country, and our fellow man, must be the power that impels us to action. Love dwells in the family, and it becomes the fittest earthly type of heaven.

Love rules in the social circle, and by its laws—purer and higher than any written upon parchment—it is the bond of neighbors. Love is the soul of patriotism, and binds the citizen to his country. Love inspires the heart and lifts it up to God, Who is all in all, for God is Love. Love dwells in Heaven. It is the spirit which animates that world of bliss, and fills its inhabitants with perpetual joy. Love was the gospel proclaimed with the advent of our blessed Saviour, and here we raise a temple to Love, that Love may dwell with us. Listen to another admonition from its sacred teachings.

[S. puts Triangle together and places it on Bible, with base toward Candidate, Incense Urn in centre.]

S. C.—It is appointed unto man once to die. Death comes to the wise, and their wisdom is no defence. He touches the unlearned and their ignorance affords them no protection. He lays his icy hand upon whom the world calls great and noble, and stills with the same hand the throbings of the hearts of the lowly. He comes to the rich upon his couch of purple, and to the poor man on his bed of straw. He breathes upon the youthful, and life's gay frost-work of bliss melts away, like snow before the sun. He touches with his skeleton sceptre the brow of the strong in full manhood, and the silver cord of life is loosed, and the wheel stands still at the cistern. The grave is the house appointed for all the living. Even to these sad thoughts Love lends its lustre, by proclaiming death the gate to endless joy, whose bars have been broken by the Prince of Peace. But death brings not only sadness, but often want to the happy homes that Love has reared and filled with light and gladness by calling for the husband, the father or breadwinner, who has not made provision for the change. Death has darkened many a dying hour with thoughts of the unprotected fireside, around which cluster the dearest affections ; thoughts perchance of the loving wife and little ones to be left to the cold charity of a hard practical world. He that "provides not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, has denied the faith, and is become worse than an infidel." How happy he who in such an hour is comforted by a knowledge that his love, forethought, and diligence, has provided for such a trying time, and how happy every member of our fraternity who is privileged to be a partner in the good work of bringing peace and strength to the bed of languishing, and comfort and sustenance to the bereaved. "Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this : To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep unspotted from the world." Love ministers to the necessities of its fel lows. It relieves the distressed, binds up the broken heart, soothes the sorrowful, supports the weak, and raises up those who are bowed down. Cherish these virtues, and you shall receive your reward. Brothers and Sisters shall grasp you by the hand, and because you have patiently persevered and humbly labored for the success of the right, the blessings of the poor, the widow and the orphan, more precious far than rubies, shall attend you through life ; their prayers shall buoy you up in sickness, their hands shall plant flowers about your last resting place, and He who numbers the hairs of your head shall crown you with life immortal beyond the grave.

[THIRD ODE.]

P. C.—[Stepping down to the Altar.] Dear Brother
_____, you have heard the teachings of this Degree.

Are you in sympathy with them? [Member answers, I am.] Are you sincerely in earnest in seeking a portion with us? [Member Answers.] If we make you a living pillar in this, our Inner Temple, may we depend upon you as a true support, prompt in meeting all your obligations, and permitting no small matter to prevent your presence at every meeting and communication? [Member Answers.] Are you willing to assume the vow of a Select Templar? [Member Answers.]

S. C.—Let all join in singing ode No. 4.

[During singing the Tyler will turn down all the lights; the P. C. will be prepared to light the incense on the altar; the Prelate will take his position immediately at the altar.]

S. C.—Dear Brother ——, you are now about to take upon yourself the solemn vow of a Select Templar, and before we proceed, we shall ask you to kneel, while the Prelate seeks the Divine blessing.

[All members assume the attitude of devotion.]

Prelate.—Great Spirit of Love, and Author of all Good, we acknowledge Thee to be our Great Councilor, and we seek Thy presence and blessing upon our work, and particularly upon Thy servant, Brother ——, who is before Thee. May he have a proper appreciation of the lessons taught here, and be deeply impressed with the solemnity of the vow he is about to make. We pray that Love may this night awaken new responses in his heart, and that Thy Spirit may give him strength to keep and perform the duties he owes to Thee, to his country, to his fellow men and to himself. We ask all in the name of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

S. C.—[To Candidate.] You will remain kneeling. Members support the Temple.

S. C.— You will assume the attitude of obligation. [Explains.]

[P. C. lights incense, which should be gauged to burn until the ceremony is completed.]

SELECT VOW.

I, _____, —believing that the Great God of Love heareth all things,—and surrounded by this triangle—of living, throbbing hearts,—solemnly promise and covenant,—that I will faithfully adhere to and preserve—all previously assumed obligations of this Order ;—that I will sacredly keep—and never reveal to any one—not a member of this Degree—any of its private work or business ;—that I will yield cheerful obedience—to all the just requirements of this Degree or of the Dominion Council ;—that I will never propose—or vote for the admission of any member to this Degree—whose previous life does not afford satisfactory evidence—that he is a fit and proper person to receive its benefits—and one likely to bring strength and favor—to our Degree and Order ;—that I will attend all the meetings of this Degree—as regularly as possible ;—that I will sincerely endeavor to live consistently with the teachings of this Degree—and govern all my conduct towards its members—by loving fraternal regard and courtesy ;—all of which, without the slightest reservation,—and with a deliberate purpose to perform,—I offer as the vow of a Select Templar.

S. C.— You will rise upon your feet a Select Templar of Temperance. Like the flame ascending from this altar, may the emotions of your soul ever ascend to Him who loveth and careth for all. This flame is the beautiful emblem of love, and as it mounts upward to God let it say for you :—

Oh ! may my love to Thee,
Pure, warm, and changeless be,
A living fire !

S. C..—Members ! Come to order as Royal Templars.

[To the Candidate.] As a Select Templar, you are entitled to a place in our Temple as a pillar. The Steward will show you that place. [S. gives him place. P. C. and Prelate takes place in line. Members dress off to right and left to extend length of Triangle.]

S. C..—[Standing in centre by altar.] Support the Temple. Now stands our dome secure, upheld by living pillars, each supporting the other, with manly honest firmness, and in the true fraternal spirit of Love and Equality.

Ye Pillars of Temperance, adorn and sustain
With Love and with firmness, this Temple far shining ;
Keep Love's altar flaming ; let Hope still remain ;
Be faithful in duty ; in heart all combining ;
Your lips guide with wisdom, with Truth grace the brow,
And never forget the Select Templar's vow.

Come to order. Give a hearty greeting to the brother we have selected and raised to-night.

[FIVE MINUTES RECESS.]
